

Shirley Dalton Professional Bio

Shirley Dalton is the creator of the Blueprint for Business Freedom. Previously the Chief Operating Officer for an Australian international franchise organisation, Shirley developed and implemented systems and processes that enabled the company to grow from 200 to over 600 franchises worldwide and list on the Australian Stock Exchange. In October 2006 Shirley started her own consultancy business, Dalton Business Systems, and has since helped hundreds of small business owners to make their businesses work better.

Shirley has consulted to leading surveying and engineering firms and worked with many of the top principals in real estate. With degrees in Psychology and Education, having invested thousands of hours and dollars in her own personal development, and interviewing hundreds of business owners and entrepreneurs for her TV and radio shows, Shirley is well placed to help you build your processes, get the best out of your people and your business and help you grow personally and professionally.
